

Benefits of joining the SALUS Network

- Increased visibility: The SALUS network offers an excellent opportunity to make your activities and projects known to a wider audience, both at national and European level; It also offers its members greater recognition as an innovative organization in the sector and greater authority of the organization in the eyes of its institutional stakeholders and the public in general.
 - The visibility of the logo of the members is reported on the site www.salusnetwork.eu and in every event organized by the SALUS network.
 - Each member is given a membership certificate which can be displayed on your premises to make your commitment to a healthier and more sustainable Europe visible.
 - Each organization can enter a banner on your institutional website which reports participation in the SALUS network.
- Networking: The SALUS network offers the opportunity to come into contact with other organizations, institutions and professionals who share the same values and objectives, creating a network of collaborations and exchanges of experiences.
 - The network promotes, through events and exchange projects, the circulation of knowledge and good practices among its members, encouraging mutual learning and professional updating on health promotion and sustainability issues.
 - On the SALUS website a page is dedicated to cross discounting that the members reserve for other members of the network.
- Participation in SALUS events: The network regularly organizes events, conferences and workshops that allow you to meet with industry experts and update yourself on the latest news.
 - Being part of the Network allows its members to participate as a public with advantageous and priority conditions at SALUS events.
 - Being part of the Network allows you to propose your own experts as speakers at SALUS events carried out in European and national institutional settings.
 - The Network offers its members advantages in accessing study materials and documentation created during the events.
- Political Influence: SALUS has a strong transversal political impact through the establishment of parliamentary interest groups in the European Parliament, national parliaments or local institutions. The SALUS network has the power to influence

European, national and local public debate on health and sustainability. By joining the network, an organization can actively contribute to shaping policies in these areas.

- Being part of the Network allows you to propose your own experts in the Scientific Philosophical Committee of SALUS and contribute directly to the definition of the proposals to be brought to the institutions (open letters, position papers, legislative proposals, etc.).
 - Being part of SALUS allows you to make proposals to the Network that can influence politics at European, national and local levels.
- Project Opportunities: The network facilitates the creation of innovative and sustainable projects, thanks to the possibility of collaborating with partners from different European countries.
 - By joining, the organization can participate in tenders and projects at a European, national or local level, can develop new initiatives in collaboration with other partners in the network and experiment with new solutions to promote health and well-being, having the advantage of an already existing network that can provide partners, including institutional ones, and generally greater credibility to the project.
